

1. Services

Site Survey

- Using several outside professional companies, you will be furnished with enough information about your customers, site, and competition to make a decision on your project.

Store Layout

- AFI's Store Engineering department develops fixture plans to meet the challenges of your changing market place and competition.
- We work with size, demographics, lifestyle, and marketing requirements to help you incorporate new ideas.
- From El Paso to Kansas, Oklahoma to Arizona, and the vacation towns of Colorado we can make your new store or remodel be an asset to the community.

Refrigeration bidding

- We provide specifications for uniform bidding and our volume buying ability helps to ensure the best price possible.
- Through the Store Development Consortium we are able to negotiate from the major manufacturers the best prices for you on all your equipment needs.

Equipment purchasing

- Our engineering department will provide you with the information necessary to make the right decision on all of your equipment purchases. We will tell you what the current trends of grocery industry are today.